

Abstract

Graphic Facilitation Techniques in Communicating Strategic Foresight Insights

David Sibbet has 35 years experience using visualization to support scenario planning, visioning, and strategic planning. He will share practices for using large scale visualization to map driving forces, support understanding environmental contexts, appreciate the range of plausible futures during scenario planning, and mapping out potential responses and strategies. He will share work from a range of corporate, government and non-profit clients. He will also demonstrate this methodology.