

Panel 1: Linking Foresight to Policy Development

Speaker: Noah Raford

Co-Founder and CEO, Futurescaper

Dr. Noah Raford is a scenario planner, strategist and public policy adviser. Noah is the co-founder of the crowdsourced foresight start-up, Futurescaper.com, which provides large-scale foresight engagements over the web for governments and organisations around the world. Noah was a scenario planner at GBN/Monitor, the co-founder of the wargaming/simulation company Sensitive Dynamics, the North American Director of Space Syntax Limited, and the Senior Research Advisor to Prince Charles' Foundation for the Built Environment. He is currently a Senior Research Fellow at the London School of Economics Complexity Programme, a fellow at the Bartlett School of Architecture, an adviser to the Scenarios Lab at the USC Annenberg School of Communications, and a fellow of the International Futures Forum. Noah received his PhD in urban planning and public policy from MIT.