

Panel Breakout 3A: The Future of Work

Speaker: Carl Benedikt Frey

Co-Director, Oxford Martin Programme on Technology and Employment, Oxford Martin School, University of Oxford

Carl Benedikt Frey is Co-Director of the Oxford Martin Programme on Technology and Employment, and Oxford Martin Citi Fellow. He is also Doctor of Economic History at Lund University, an Economics Associate of Nuffield College, University of Oxford, and Specialist Advisor to the Digital Skills Select Committee at the House of Lords. His research interests include the transition of industrial nations to digital economies, and subsequent challenges for economic growth and employment. In particular, his work focuses on technology shocks and associated impacts on labour markets and urban development.

His work has been covered by the BBC, CNN, The Economist, Financial Times, Wall Street Journal, Bloomberg Businessweek, New York Times, Washington Post, Der Spiegel, Scientific American, TIME Magazine, Forbes, and many others.

