

Panel 4: Analysing Big Shifts in Global Issues

Speaker: Ilan Mizrahi

Former National Security Advisor & Head, National Security Council, Israel

Ilan Mizrahi is the President and CEO of TATOOM Consulting Pte Ltd, a security and intelligence consulting company. He was also the former Deputy Head of the Mossad and former Head of the Israeli National Security Council under former Prime Minister Ehud Olmert. The Mossad is the Israeli Security Agency responsible for intelligence collection, covert operations and counter-terrorism and it reports directly to the Prime Minister.

From 1972 to 2003, Mizrahi served in Mossad in various departments. He was Head of Anti-Terror department and also the Head of Recruitment and Operation. Mizrahi also established and headed the Intelligence Division. His last position held was as the Deputy Head of Mossad. Mizrahi then took up the role as the CEO of YANIV, a national NGO which dealt with youths at risk and prepared strategic plans at the national level (2003-2004). From 2006 to 2008, Mizrahi was the Head of the National Security Council and a political-security consultant to former Prime Minister Ehud Olmert.

Mizrahi graduated with a double degree in Political Science and Islam and Middle East History from Tel Aviv University, Israel. He then earned his graduate degree in Political Science at the University of Haifa, Israel.